reived an extensively signed petition asking that board to limit the number asking that board to limit the number of licensed saloons in Dardury to about forty under the new haw restricting the number of licenses to one to each 500 of population. Under the law, however, the commissioners find it impossible to comply with the request, as those who hold licenses at present are entitled to renewals. The number of saloons now in existence is far in excess of the limit, and those who hold them appear to be safeguarding them most jeulously, it seems hardly probable that there will be any material reduction at once in the number of drinking places. SCHOOL PHYSICIAN

Advocated for Meriden-Matter to Be Presented to School Board.

The agitation which was started some months ago for a medical inspection of the Meriden schools will result, according to statements made by School Supt. W. P. Kelly, in the matter being presented soon before the school board.

The examination by City Health Officer Meeks and assisting physicians of school children for diphtheria bacilil has shown, it is stated the utmost need of a medical inspector to guard the children and advise with their parents.

their parents.

The school appropriation is not adequate to meet the expense that would be thus entailed and therefore office.

Mrs. Stephen A Prentis of New London conducted the devotional service which was followed by reading of the minutes. Miss M Ella Stewart gave a forcible address on Browning Home and Its Needs. Mrs. Walter P. Buck conducted the question box. Pledges were made of work that would be attempted and interesting reports came from the standing committees. After the passage of the customary resolutions of appreciation, the session closed with the doxology and benediction.

Freight steamer Herman Winter of the Metropolitan line and bound from Boston to New York became disabled.

See Boston to New York became disabled would be thus entailed and therefore if the town will be asked for the necessary funds. "We spend a thousand dollars to save our trees" is one argument.

It also is pointed out that an epidemic such as has just been experienced could have been better met by a physician who could devote his entire time to the schools. In their brief examination of the children for traces of diphtheria last week, the three physicians so engaged found many pupils who needed attention. These matters attended to now would prevent serious illness later on, it is argued.

Freight steamer Herman Winter of the Metropolitan line and bound from Boston to New York became disabled when about six miles off Watch Hill early Thursday morning. Capt. Walter H. Davis and his life saving crew went to the steamer and offered assistance. It was ascertained that the eccentric rod of one of the engines had broken. Mr. Kelly finds that parents readily respond to suggestions regarding their children's health if their attention is called to it. It was ascertained that the eccentric rod of one of the engines had broken, that temporary repairs were being made, and that the steamer was at anchor and in no danger.

Captain Thompson sent a message ashore by the life saving crew which was despatched to the New York office stating that if proper repairs could be made the steamer would proceed direct to New York. If not, would put into New London harbor for repairs!

Rights of Property Owners. News from Litchfield county is to the effect that forty-five farmers in Gosnen have signed an agreement to arrest all trespassers on their property unless they can show written permits from the owners. This will apply to hunters, fishermen, berry pickers, picnic parties and "whosoever." That is, the woods which have been filled with game at the state's expense and the streams which have been stocked with fish at the state's expense are now considered private assets by the men who fish at the state's expense are now con-sidered private assets by the men who happen to own the property thus en-riched. The law makes it possible for them to be their own sheriffs and they have taken advantage of it. In 1911 they can shoot deer to their hearts' content, and keep others from shoot-ing on their lands. They can catch the state's trout and defy all comers. Thus, under the Connecticut regime, does applie reporerty become private gain. from the team representing the Groton school, and this was achieved in part by Donald Cottrell, son of Mrs. C. Byron Cottrell, of Westerly, who played quarterback for St. Mark's school. The game was played Wednesday and won by a score of 6 to 6. The published reports of the game commend the fine playing of young Cottrell, but make no reference to severe injuries he received. public property become private gain.— Ansonia Sentinel.

Still Hopeful.

Is the republican party of Vermont politically bankrupt? The Herald does not believe it. The trouble is not with the party, but with the "leaders," who have been continually drawing upon it and putting back nothing.
